The U.S. Constitution authorizes and requires the government to count the people in the United States every 10 years, primarily for the purpose of determining the number of congressional representatives each state will have, between 1870 and 1880, the U.S. population increased by 26.8%. If you look at the government line years in the

"The Census"

DPIX BROTHER IS WATCHING YOU."