TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS/FINANCIAL ISSUES

Arrangements have been made to travel on a luxury bus. It is expected that all participants will share a room. The NYNJERC will pay for the cost of the bus, hotel room charges, and admission charges to each site we visit. Any extra expenses (i.e., room service, in-room movies, gifts, tips, etc.) are your responsibility. You will purchase your meals. Discuss with you program chair how/if these charges will be reimbursed. Please be sure to complete any travel forms that are required by your host institution prior to leaving on the tour.

HEALTH AND SAFETY ADVISORY

The Historical Perspectives Tour is a 5-day, 4-night bus tour consisting of diverse occupational and environmental site visits requiring different levels of health and fitness for full participation. Some activities are comparable to visiting a museum while other activities may be more strenuous or not advisable depending on your personal health issues. You may decline to participate in certain of the activities or portions of the activities without revealing a personal health matter. There are knowledgeable faculty with whom you may discuss your concerns but this should not take the place of a visit or conversation with your private medical doctor prior to the trip.

Although some activities consist of light walking on level ground, other activities involve moderate walking on inclines, or for prolonged periods of time, possibly on uneven or slippery surfaces. Since we are visiting industrial and environmental sites of interest, conditions may include exposure to dusts, temperature extremes, tight spaces, darkness, low level chemicals used in industrial processes, or even unpredictable events. Personal protective equipment such as hard hats, hearing protection, respirators, and/or Tyvek suits may be required in certain areas. These increase the physical and even mental demands of the activity.

If you have concerns about your fitness or health concerns regarding any aspect of the trip please bring this to the attention of your group leader before the trip. Should concerns arise during the trip, or if there is any activity that you do not feel comfortable engaging in, please let the group leader know.

Anyone who has medical problems which are not well-controlled is advised to delay participation in the trip until their medical problems are stabilized.

We want you to have a safe and enjoyable educational experience.
